that the stockholders are practically receiving 35 for $1.

The plant is one of the best in the country, complete throughout and can be started practically without expense. The works is a well equipped and with a permanent management it ought to pay dividends. When in operation over 225 persons were employed and the pay roll was about $2,200 per week. The works is a big thing for Martin's Ferry and many of its citizens and employes of the works will doubtless take stock.

From what can be learned it is not the intention to ask any donations, but the people will simply be asked to take stock.

The company has not yet organized

The company has not yet organised and nothing is yet known as to what the management will be. It is the intention to continue the manufacture of table ware and specialties, with the addition of electrical goods, etc.

The output will consist principally of crystal ware. An entirely new line was ready for manufacturing when the works shut down. Samples had been made, also a line of filustrations for the purpose of exhibiting to the trade throughout the country, and these new goods will be one of the lines which are to be made. The pattern is a beautiful one and the new line will doubtless be a good seller.

Guy Brothers gave one of their inimitable entertainments Wednesday evening. They were here about a year ago, and the fact that they had a full house last evening shows how well they are appreciated. They are simply immense, and there is no company traveling through this part of Ontario that can at all compare with them. They meet with success everywhere, because they deserve it, and they will be sure to be greeted here on their return with a crowded house.

Long Time Identifying Him

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.-Solo mon A. Dingee, who was drowned in North river, New York City, in Jan-uary, 1895, and who is now supposed to uary, 1895, and who is now supposed to have been the victim of foul play, was a well known figure in this city during the "boom" days. He was foremost in building enterprises and laid out several additions and parks. When the hoom broke he was left pennitess. Col. Dingse went to New York in the fall of 1832. His son, Louis, died here in the following year, after which nothing was heard from him by his Kansas City friends. While here Dingse spent much time and money in looking up papers and prosecuting his claim to a valuable estate in West Chester county, New York, to prevent his getting which it is now believed he was murdered.

main consideration affecting prices until the last hour was the action likely to be taken by the presidents of the anthractic doal railreads at the adjourned meeting in relation to the report of the special committee on percentages.
The subject was regarded by Wall street and by foreign operators as of paramount importance. The impression that an harmonious agreement would be reached was reflected in an advancing tendency in the market.
The opening was moderately active and firm, but a sagging tendency soon developed in which sugar was most conspicuous. The coal stocks were then taken in hand and the buoyancy in this group was soon communicated to the general market. Reading was the most animated and exhibited decided strength. The bonds were also taken in large blocks by the interests identified with the reorganization.
Around delivery hour, the execution of realizing sales precipitated a general reaction. The speculation left off active and weak in tone, but with the net results gains in most instances.
The dealings in railroad and miscellaneous mortgages were characterized by strength and activity, with the Reading issues the striking features. The sales of those bonds absorbed $1,500,000
